CHRISTIANS AT WORK.

THAT MISSIONARIES HAVE ACCOMPLISHED THERE AND WITH THE MINERS-WOMEN'S GOOD WORK IN MANY CITIES-AN INSTANCE OF BOW THE

t Work began this morning at 9 o'clock with religious service. This convention has been session at Congregational Church, morning. fternoon and evening, and all these sessions, nore especially those in the evening, have been ed by large crowds and the greatest inerest has been evinced in the deliberations of se men and women, who have devoted their lives to the cause of Christianity. On the platform this morning stood a blackd, on which was drawn in colored chalks a fr. L. L. Gilson, a young man from Hurley, Wis.. in his essay on mission work among the lumbermen of that section. Mr. Gilson spoke of the immensity of the field to be covered in this evangelical work and said that there would be this winter fully 100,000 men engaged in the lumbering business, representing all grades of civilization from the most abandoned saking of these mining towns the speaker id the vast majority of them have no religious aining, but mission workers are received hool house on common descriptions and that notwithstanding what it had seen in the past such a change had been brought about by the efforts of missionaries and through the labors of the King's Daughters and the King's Sons that now a lady may go about the streets at 9 o'clock at night without being molested. A handsome new Y. M. C. A. building is to be opened on Thanksgiving day. In spite of all opened on Thanksgiv hat has been done in all these towns and camps here are still more than 100 towns where no egular Christian work is being done and a remendous harvest is ready for the harvester, in response to questions Mr. Gilson said that in response to questions Mr. Gilson said that se himself was regularly employed as a mis-ionary to the mines and the lumber amps. He is paid a salary and all expenses by the King's Daughters and the King's Sons from all over the country. Reading matter, he said, his hearers who might have reading which could bh used among the camps ious or secular, is appreciated and enjoyed by them. Hurley was formerly one of the towns where great atrocities were committed, down with bloodhounds. With such a beginning the change that has come over the place is all the more and reflects the greatest credit upon the Christian workers who have brought it about.

requently she got the judge to let them go on a suspension of judgment and in not one instance had they gone back on her. The work is largely of an individual nature, personal work with the drunkard and the fallen, and consists largely in getting the people to feel that she was a friend of theirs.

Miss Remington told of a number of cases and what there was to do in such Ore even.

Miss Remington told of a number of cases and what there was to do in each. One anecdote was interesting and rather amusing. In her rounds after small children for her Sunday school one day she found crape on the door of a house where she had visited the day before and knew that no one was sick. She left her children outside the door and was tink the children outside the door and went in to inuire. Something was said about a woman up tairs being dead, but she soon found this wa stairs being dead, but she soon found this was not so. The woman of the house finally ad-mitted the truth. She was anxious to make a little money and decided she could do it easiest by selling beer on Sunday. She had hung the crape on the door as a blind for the police, for when they saw the crowds entering the house the police thought they were going in to see the corpse. Forty or fifty people were inside drinking beer, but at Miss Remington's solicitation the woman poured all her beer into the sink. The speaker said that that had been her success eaker said that that had been her success roughout. First make the persons you wan reach realize that you are their friend and ey will do almost anything for you in return. diss Remington described in a racy and inter-sting style that marked her not only as a hard rker, but as an earnest speaker as well.

I prayer was offered asking a blessing upon se Remington and her work in New Haven. Miss Remington and her work in New Haven.
Rev. Mr. Torrey, the presiding officer, read a letter from Rev. Dr. McKim, pastor of the Church of the Epiphany, regretting his inability to be present at the sessions of the convention, being prevented by having to leave town. Mr. Torrey said he was glad to read the letter, since ministers had been sometimes criticised for not attending these conventions when they did not really deserve the criticism. Then Rev. F. M. Lamb, the young minister who has added so much to the interest of the convention by his delightful nterest of the convention by his delightful

OPENING THE QUESTION BOL. At 11 o'clock Mr. Torrey announced the time had arrived for the discussion of the questions that had been placed in the question box. All any subject upon which they wished to be enlightened. These questions covered a great deal of the ground occupied by the mission work. As a rule they were answered by the presiding officer, but sometimes the request was written that some one delegate who was particularly familiar with the subject inquired about would answer, and sometimes Mr. Torrey about would answer, and sometimes Mr. Torrey would call upon some one in the audience to answer. The questions were for the most part intensely practical and were calls for information as to different phases of mission work.

At the expiration of the time allotted to the questions Mr. Collins proposed a series of resolutions expressing the hearty thanks of the convention to the local committee of arrangements, to the pastors and officers of the Congregational and the Fourth Presbyterian Church, to the local press, to the railroads, to the janitor of the church and to others.

These resolutions were passed unanimously by a rising vote.

Rev Dr. Berger of Cleveland, Chio, extended an invitation to the delegates to hold the next annual convention in that city.

Rev. Dr. Hamilton, president of the Evangelical Alliance of Boston and vicinity, invited the convention to come there, and pointed out a number of advantages that would accrue from their coming there.

8:30. Closing services.

One of the most active participants in the convention that closes this evening is Mr. Thos. D. Roberts, the superintendent of the Boston Industrial and Appleton Temporary Homes, that were ameng the earliest institutions of the sort founded in this country. Mr. Roberts' address made at the convention yesterday on the subject of the "Industrial Home" was one of the most valuable that was delivered during the sessions, and was full of useful suggestions for the conduct of such mission work.

tion of the Christians at Work shows the in-There is also a great deal of curiosity to see There is also a great deal of curtosity to see and hear the men and women who have succeeded in carrying into practical effect rather novel enterprises. They are well worth hearing What they have to say is the result of every-day experiences in dealing with every-day facts. They tell how they are working out the problem of reclaiming the drunkard and the degraded. Their talk is of facts, not of theories. Such men as have been grouped together in the program present striking contrasts. For example, the speakers on the platform at the session this morning represented widely different grades. he entered the ministry of the Presbyterian church, and at his home in Hamilton he has organized one of the largest congregations in the city. He is a man of fine presence and is thoroughly interested in his work.

There is nothing slow about Mr. Swan and the solid business men of Norwich who back him up with financial aid appreciate that fact The tramps and drunkards who find their way to Norwich discover that he is full of Christian that the Norwich discover that he is full of Christian that the Norwich discover that he is full of Christian that the Norwich discover tha of the Welcome Hall Mission, New Haven, Conn., spoke interestingly of her personal work in home visitation among the foreign apopulation in that city. Beginning with noth ir g but rebuffs and setbacks in her work things had now come to such a pass that she was a welcome visitor in many places where the first she was received with hot is charge.

The tramps and drunkards who find their way to Norwich discover that he is full of Christian kindness and ready and willing to extend a helping hand. He, however, draws the line on the chronic beat, and it is his quickness in unmasking this species of tramp that has contributed so largely to the success of the work under his charge.

MISS CATHERINE GURNEY. The women, as has been stated, are important factors in the convention. One of the most don, England, whose work among the police of that great city has become known in this country. She is an interesting speaker, and presents the practical aspects of the movement which she represents with good effect. The ministers as well as the laymen are connected actively with the convention. Their work as pastors is in line with practical Christian effort and they are in sympathy with all movements of this character. One of the prominent delegates is Rev. W. M. Paden, the assistant pastor of the Holland Memorial Presbyterian Church of Philadelphia. He is a man of high culture and his address this afternoon was an effective presentation of some phases of Christian work.

Wouldn't Give Any Credit. Henry McKenny and Daniel Whalen were in the Police Court this morning charged with being disordely on Maryland avenue last night. The men are cement workers, and yesterday they were employed at the White House. Last evening, after finishing their day's work, the men took several drinks and Policemen Schrae-der and Anderson arrested them. McKenny asked the court to credit him until his next pay day, but Judge Miller told him that when he startsout on a lark he had better put an extra $5 in his pocket. The men were each fined $5 and the judge told them that they would have to pay cash or go down for fifteen days.
